LEGEND '87

Christopher,
Well, hun!! This is my last year and so far it has been great!! You are the reason that it has been great. I'm glad we have become so close, and I'm gonna miss you when I go to college. I'll never forget you, though. You are a very special person to me - and I'll always be an inspiration to you - I hope that I will always be an inspiration to you - You write beautiful music - keep it coming. OK? Enjoy your senior year and make it count. It's only the best years of your life. Good luck on all that you do, hun! I love you!!

Love forever,
Staci!!

Intramurals was something that anyone, boy or girl, could enjoy. Wawasee seemed to have a great turn out both with intramural volleyball and basketball. It was just a bunch of friends who put together their own team and style. It was also a way to get out and be involved outside of the normal school day.

1. Mr. Corson and Mr. Minton watched something very eye catching. 2. Jamie Prescott went up on the jump ball. 3. Shannon Angle acted like he was going to shoot. 4. What a block! 5. Troy Reiff watched closely as he officiated the game.

We get excited

1

The students of Wawasee High School were very enthused about the 1986 homecoming event. "Warriors Around the Globe" was the theme. This theme brought out the creativity of the students. Throughout the week they had competition between the four classes. Total points were kept all week from hall decorations, powder puff, float building, bonfire attendance and fall fling. Students were busy all week. Seniors won first place followed by the juniors in second, sophomores in third, and last but not least were the freshmen.

This was not the only competition of the week. There were still the candidates for Queen and King. All enjoyed the activities involved in being a candidate and would gladly do it again.

1. DECA Club worked hard and made a unique float. 2. 1986 Homecoming candidates were row 1: Julie Schmahl, Tressa Littleton, Ann Vitaniemi, and Kelly Lundy. row 2: Tim Mangas, Ben Beer, Nathan Rhoades, and Chris Cotton. 3. The bonfire was as hot as ever. 4. FCA was in charge of this clever float. 5. The fireworks displayed Warrior spirit after a touchdown. 6. Heather Keiper and Jon Nemeth were a little confused that day. 7. Freshman Dan Gallmeier was really concentrating on his T.P. passing. 8. Ben Beer and Tressa Littleton were the chosen royalty. 9. Anthony Clark was having a deep thought before the game.

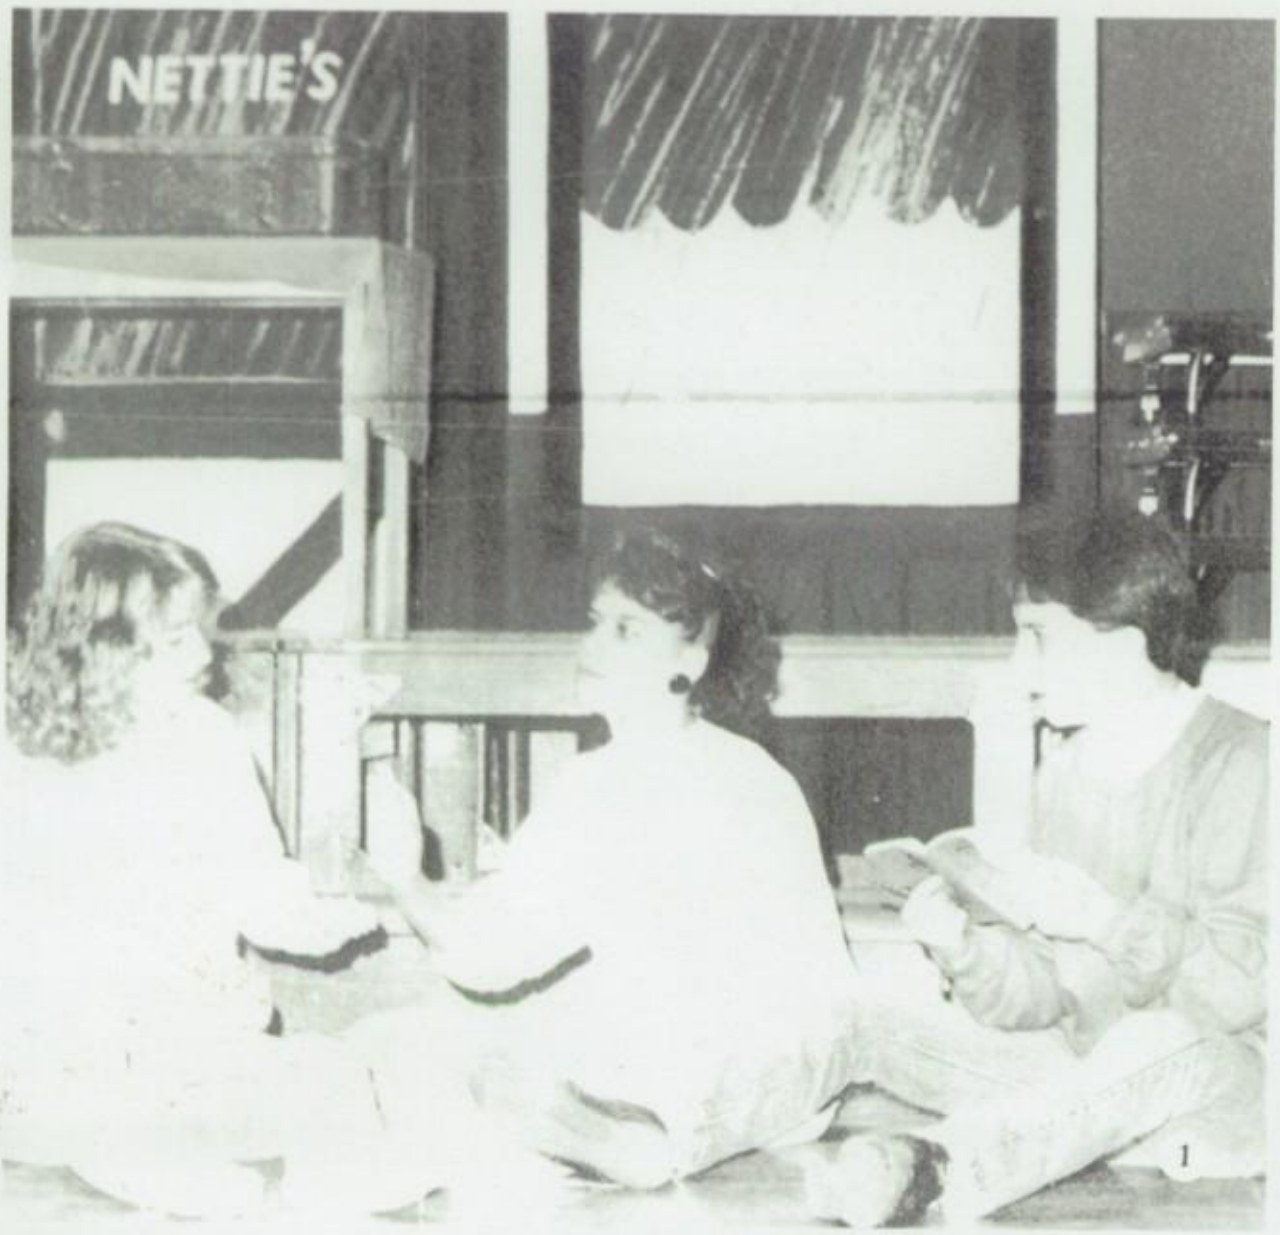
Going 'round with Carousel

Wawasee High School Drama Club seemed to always put out good musicals. This year they did Carousel. This was a story of a young carnival barker who fell in love, but not without problems from another jealous lady. The story had a nice twist and made a good production. Many students turned out to be in the musical which made it that much better.

1. The carousel gang got together during this scene. 2. Chris Jordan was taking the stage alone. 3. Derek Bowen and Heidi Huffman had a little spat.

Playing around with Miracles



The 1986-87 spring play was "The Miracle Worker." Students started rehearsals very early, but it paid off. They gave two grand performances under the direction of Miss Erp. The Wawasee Drama department definitely had young interest and much talent.

1. Helen Keller portrayed by Debbie Bjella was learning to use sign language. 2. Everyone watched with intensity. 3. The family gathered.

Creative Convos

This year we had a variety of convos. The first one dealt with birth defects and their relationship to drugs, alcohol or anything else that might harm an unborn child. Next the choirs gave a short demonstration of their Christmas concert by singing a few numbers they planned to perform. Campus Life delighted us once again with the very popular 3-screen slide presentation. For other convos we had different pep sessions throughout the year for the band and various athletic teams. We finished our variety of convos with a rock group from Florida called "Free Fare." They gave a follow-up concert 2 days after the convo which turned out very successfully. The students of WHS enjoyed these convos and it gave them a chance to get out of the classroom for a few hours.

1. Erik Metcalf presented the school with the band trophy from the Gator Bowl. 2. Was that our principal? 3. Otis Wilson of the Chicago Bears showed a fan how to shoot a free throw during the athletic fund raiser between the Bears and Faculty. 4. The students jammed to "Free Fare." 5. Campus Life set up for their convo. 6. The choirs sang their hearts out. 7. The juniors and seniors battled it out while playing with the earth ball. 8. It was the start of a great pep rally.

"A Knight in Camelot"

The most enchanted night of the year was a wonderful success. The senior prom was done up in a Royal Ball type setting with Knights and armour. The building of the prom didn't take that long due to the efforts of many seniors who spent quality time decorating. The chosen Royalty for the night as Prom King & Queen were Nathan Rhoades and Julie Schmahl. The fun didn't stop with just prom though; the after prom activities kept everyone awake and happy, especially with the hypnotist.

1. Louis Siri was really into the beat of this tune. 2. Kelly Mitchell and Dale Grady gave adorable smiles. 3. What was Kevin Parker's date grinning about? 4. Mike Morgan looked very cozy with Renee Gammiere. 5. Lisa Nobel enjoyed the dance. 6. What a charming couple Tony Hasse and Roberta Flannery made. 7. Katie Doll looked wild. 8. Jenny Kline and Jeff Leising were having a nice evening

Wawasee Graduates 19th Class

Sunday May 17, 1987, was a special day for the graduating class of Wawasee. Senior class president Ben Beer started commencement by addressing the seniors with a welcome. Altogether 197 graduating seniors received diplomas. Honorary diplomas were given to 3 foreign exchange students: Angelo Ciruyano, Kikuko Kashiwagi, and Leena Keloneva. Co-Validictorians were Angela Barton and Jerrod Stoller. Salutatorian was Kristina Lange. The class colors were green and white, and the flower was a yellow rose. The class chose as its motto "Special times and places, Special friends together; The moments pass so quickly, But the memories last forever."

Marching Warrior Pride

The Marching Band traveled to Florida in December to march in the Gator Bowl Parade, perform in the largest band show ever, compete in a field show, and spend the day at Disney World all in just a few short days. It was nonstop for the band students. While they were down there, they competed in only two events: the parade itself and the field show. They took first place trophies in both of those competitions. They also visited St. Augustine while there.

1. The drum majors were Chris Schwartz, Rhonda McDonald, and Eric Metcalf. 2. Chris Solina was intent on his tuba playing. 3. Our photographer got the clarinet players in action. 4. Brad Richards just couldn't resist giving this face. 5. This was the Wawasee Marching Warrior Band. 6. Choir students join Dream Company

A new pop group was offered to the choir students. This group was called Dream Company. It was different from the Varsity Singers in that it was only offered to the girls. The girls who were interested in becoming a part of this program were required to try out. The ones who were accepted had a good time traveling places and performing for lots of different people.

1. The Concert Choir looked excited to get their picture taken. 2. The Mixed Choir consisted of the freshman students. 3. This was the Treble Choir. 4. The Varsity Singers were a happy crowd. 5. The Dream Company was a new choir added this year 6. The teachers in the music department were Mr. Hatfield, Mr. Blackwell, and Mr. Bailey.

Learning skills that last a lifetime

The vocational students had many options to choose from. They could learn construction skills in building trades, secretarial skills in office lab or mechanical trades in auto mechanics. Other vocational classes offered were cosmetology, vocational agriculture and agribusiness, machine shop and welding, ag mechanics, clothing, and small animal care.

1. Jason Ladd and Chris Guy were busy putting up dry wall. 2. Bob Doerr showed off his plastering skills. 3. Ag students listened carefully to Mr. Warren. 4. The vocational teachers were row 1: Mrs. Leach, Mr. Warren, Mrs. Huber. row 2: Mr. Troyer, Mr. Timpe, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. Wysong. 5. The building trades students posed in front of the house they built.

Learning new trades

Indusrial arts classes were offered to all students who had interests in drafting, metals, or woodworking. The drafting classes also helped in the designing of the home that was built by the building trades students. Anyone could be admitted into these basic classes, and they were provided the help in developing skills that could be used in advanced classes.

1. Dave Stuckman showed his smile. 2. Ron Thomas was designing a home in drafting. 3. Chuck Wahlgren, Roger Galloway, and Mike Foy had some fun during shop class. 4. These students took time out to pose in drafting class. 5. The industrial arts teachers were standing: Mr. Jones, Mr. Cesco; seated: Mr. Vitaniemi, and Mr. Alford. 6. It didn't look like Bob Casey wanted his picture taken. 7. Dave Huffenberger really enjoyed his drafting project.

Library assists in student education

The library offered material for students on almost every subject. There was a great variety of books, magazines, encyclopedias, and films offered to the students. The students were also able to use the computers and discs to aid them with their homework or for their own enjoyment. The librarians were a great help when the students needed material and did a good job keeping the library a quiet place for study.

1. Tammy Munson used her time in the library to study. 2. Bill Hill spent some of his free time working in the library. 3. These students chose to work together in the library. 4. Dan Wuthrich and Lora Hollar were busy with their homework. 5. Donyel Byrd didn't look like she was having too much fun in the library. 6. The librarians were Mrs. Robinson, library aide; Mr. Guinther, librarian; and Mrs. Thomas, AV aide.

Science acquires new room

A new room was added to the science department. Room 104, which was previously a home-ec room, was changed to a science room. It took a lot of time and money, but it benefitted the students. They had more space and new facilities to do their labs.

Another addition to the department was a new teacher. Mr. Goshert started out his first year at Wawasee teaching general science. The department also had help from Jeff Long, a much appreciated student teacher from Grace College.

1. The teachers in the science department were Ms. Kline, Mr. W. Kitson, Mr. Keiper, Mrs. Schumm, Mr. Vanlue, Mr. R. Kitson, and Mr. Long, a student teacher. 2. The biology class was hard at work with their microscopes. 3. Scott Robinson tried to make a pretty face for the cameraman. 4. Jared Hampton had to think hard on his lab. 5. Tim Carter was having fun while all others did their work. 6. Mike Neterer and Scott Kleeman had fun doing their physics lab. 7. Physics class kept the students busy and working hard.

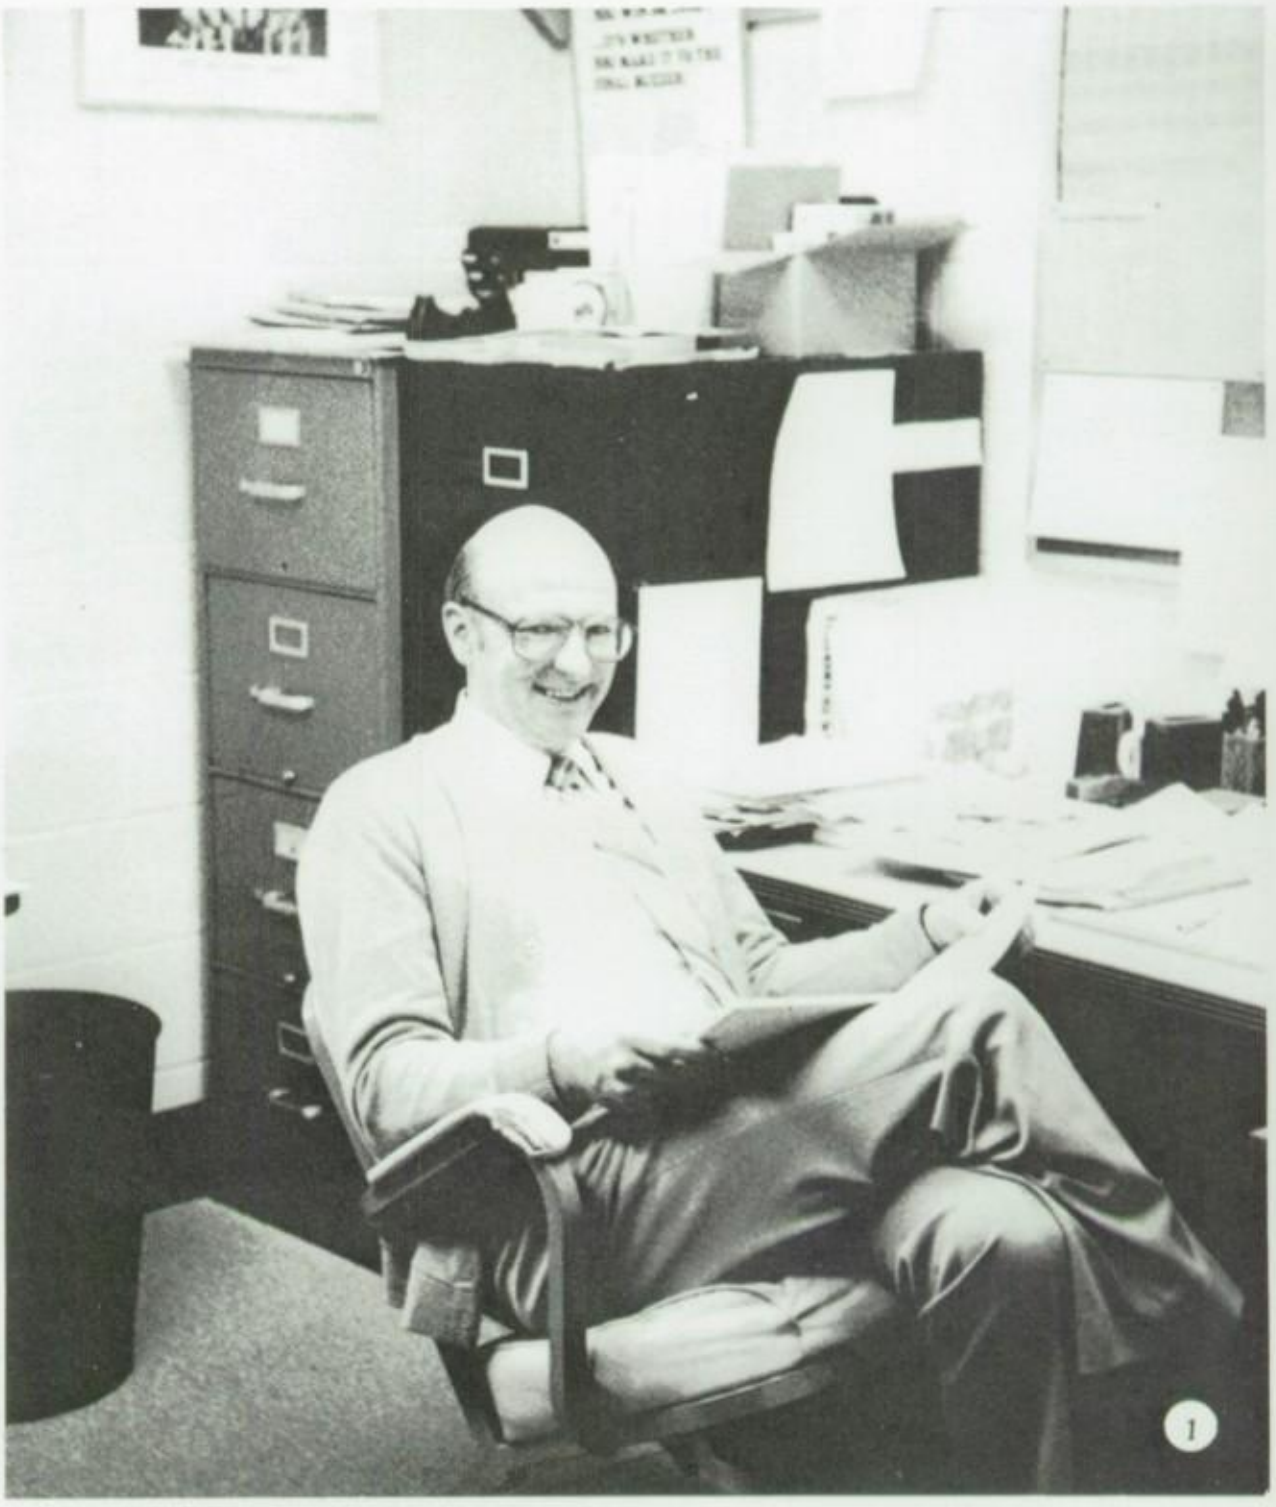
Guidance aids in the students' futures

The guidance counselors provided the students with much assistance on furthering their educations. The guidance counselors were Mr. Brannock for freshmen and juniors, Ms. Angle for sophomores, and Mrs. Curtis for the seniors. The counselors had help from Mrs. Rider. She was the secretary in the guidance office.



1

1. Mr. Brannock certainly was happy to get his picture taken. 2. Ms. Angle helped the students make out their schedules for the next year. 3. Mrs. Rider was busy helping out the guidance counselors. 4. The guidance counselors were Mrs. Wolfe, special needs teacher; Mr. Brannock, Ms. Angle, and Mrs. Curtis. 5. Mrs. Curtis helped Lee Haney find some information. 6. Jennifer Carty showed the cameraperson a college catalogue.

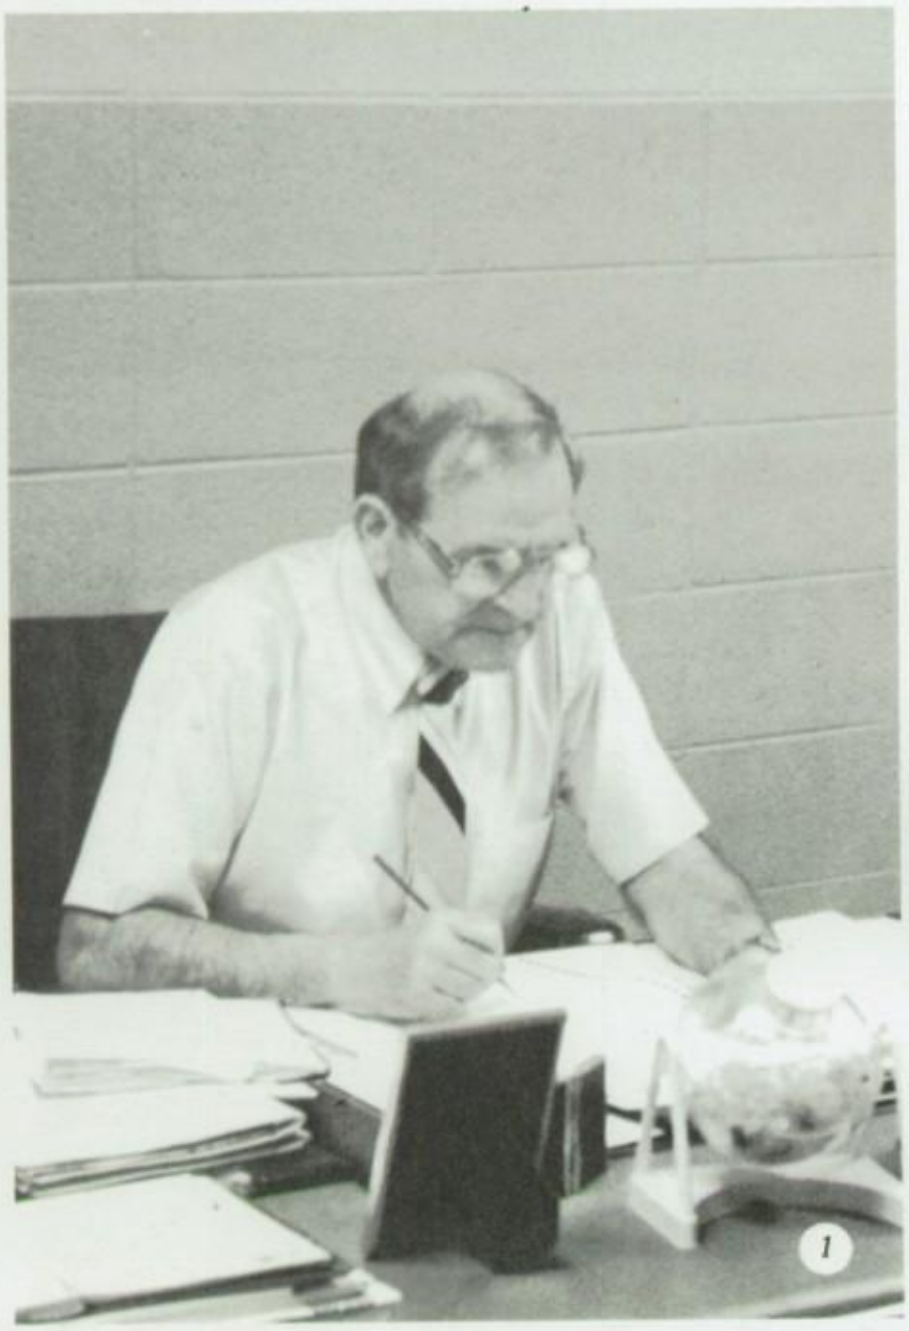
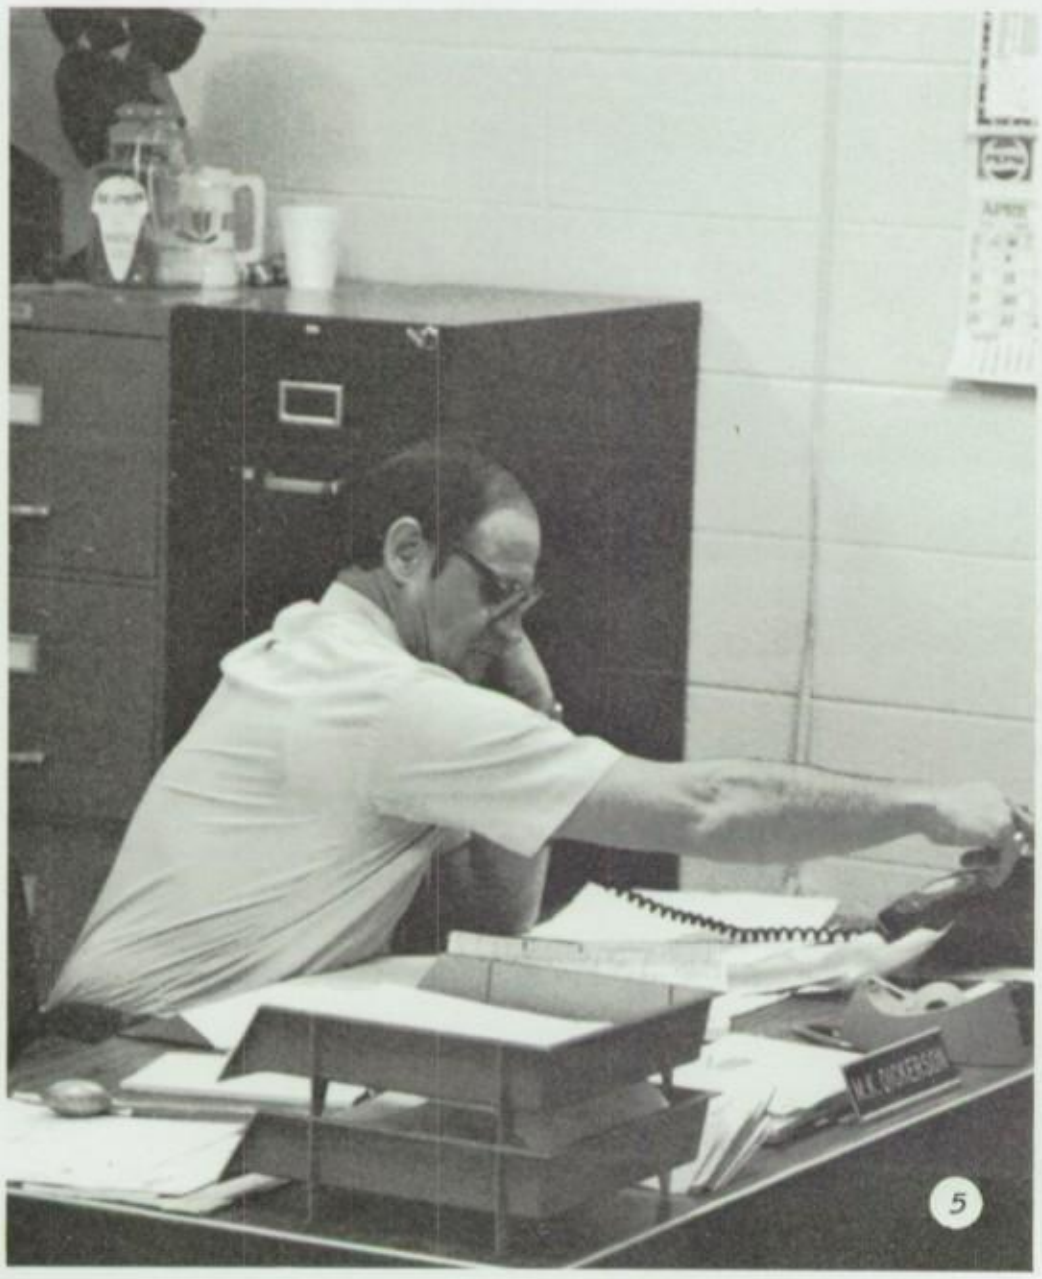
Administrators work on improvements



The administrators for the '86-'87 school year were Mr. Wysong, Vocational Director; Mr. Dickerson, Dean of Students; Mr. Speicher, Principal; Mr. Traviolia, Athletic Director; and Mr. Kesler, Assistant Principal. They all worked hard on making improvements and changes for the school to benefit the students and their educations.

A help room was added this year for the students who were having academic difficulty. Another improvement was the Academic Hall of Fame. This helped to recognize the students who achieved very good grades and worked hard. The school was also making plans to spend $290,000 on fixing up the facility. They were redoing the commons, painting the gym, buying new furniture and ceiling tiles, and adding a theatre room for the students.



1. Mr. Kesler had to work hard to fill his position as assistant principal. 2. Mr. Speicher took time out of his busy schedule to pose for a picture. 3. The administrators were Mr. Wysong, Mr. Dickerson, Mr. Speicher, Mr. Traviolia, and Mr. Kesler. 4. The school board members were seated: Mr. Dave Carey, Mr. William Troup, and Mrs. Carol Swartzendruber; standing: Mr. Roger Kreider, Mr. Howard Hull, Mr. Bill Little, Mr. Curtis Jordan, and Dr. Roger Thornton. 5. Mr. Dickerson spent part of his time on the telephone. 6. Mr. Traviolia picked up his daily mail.

Orchestra students take 3rd in State

A few of the orchestra students had an exciting year. In January a quartet which consisted of Jennifer Wolferman, Kristina Lange, Mark Miller, and Heidi Brower went to state contest and won a third by performing a piece by Motzart. Some of the pieces the orchestra played were "Royal Fireworks Overture," "Concertina" by Vivaldi and the "Love Theme" from Saint Elmo's Fire at their four concerts throughout the year.

1. Connie Polise showed her winning pose. 2. The Orchestra teacher was Mr. Hatfield. 3. Kara Zimmerman was busily concentrating on her music. 4. This was 1986-87 Wawasee Orchestra. 5. Jennifer Wolferman was really into her music. 6. Mr. Hatfield was preparing his orchestra class for their Spring concert.

New Career teacher joins WHS

The Career classes had the addition of a new teacher this year; Mr. Goshert joined the Wawasee teaching staff. Mr. Goshert added to the Careers class a program called "Quest." It was a program involving self-awareness and communications. Some of the subjects the students studied were attitude, resumes, employer expectation, and budgeting.

1. Did any of these students work during group discussion? 2. Who was Bill Senff dreaming of this time? 3. Debbie Polise really paid attention in Careers. 4. The Health and Career teachers were Mr. Lambert, Mrs. Parr and Mr. Goshert. 5. Faith Hapner and Trent Harris didn't look very thrilled about listening to another one of Mr. Lambert's lectures.

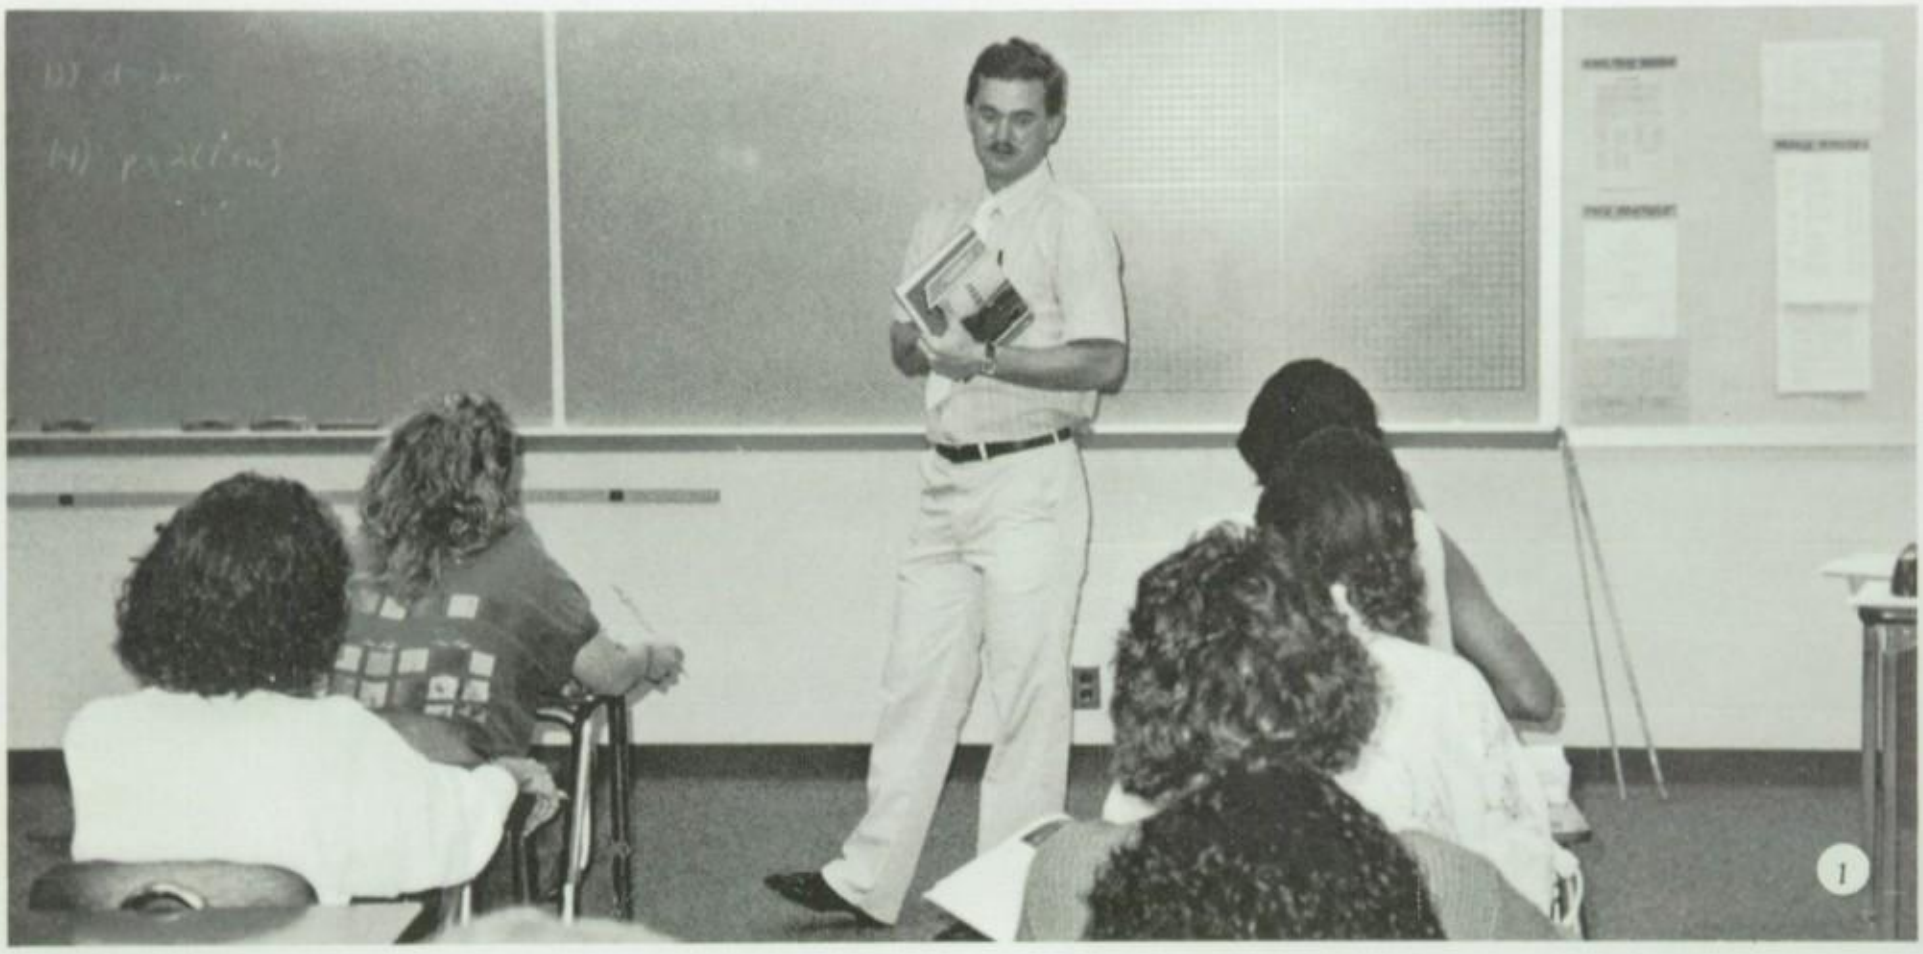
3

The Health classes learned about emotions, drugs, smoking, and sex this year. They did their smoking lab and listened to speakers. They also watched many films and videos. The Health and Career classes were required for all sophomores.

Math updates course to help students



There was a new teacher added to the Math department this year. His name was Mr. Albert. He previously taught at White's Institute for four years. His wife, Mrs. Albert, also helped out Wawasee by taking the position of head coach for the volleyball team.

Phil Metcalf had help with his classes from Jane Hollingsworth. She was a student teacher from Indiana University.

The students in the math department acquired new textbooks with updated material. The teachers in the department also updated the course guides to benefit the students and help them as much as possible.

1. Mr. Frantz was teaching his class a new lesson. 2. Steve Ensinger waited for help from the teacher. 3. Mr. Neff was always there when the students needed his help. 4. The students in math helped each other with their homework. 5. John Nemeth was confident when he took his advanced math test. 6. The students in advanced math were all busy taking their tests. 7. The teachers in the math department were standing: Ms. Kline, Mr. Metcalf, and Mr. Neff; seated: Mr. Frantz, Mr. Albert, Mr. Umbower, and Mr. Siler.

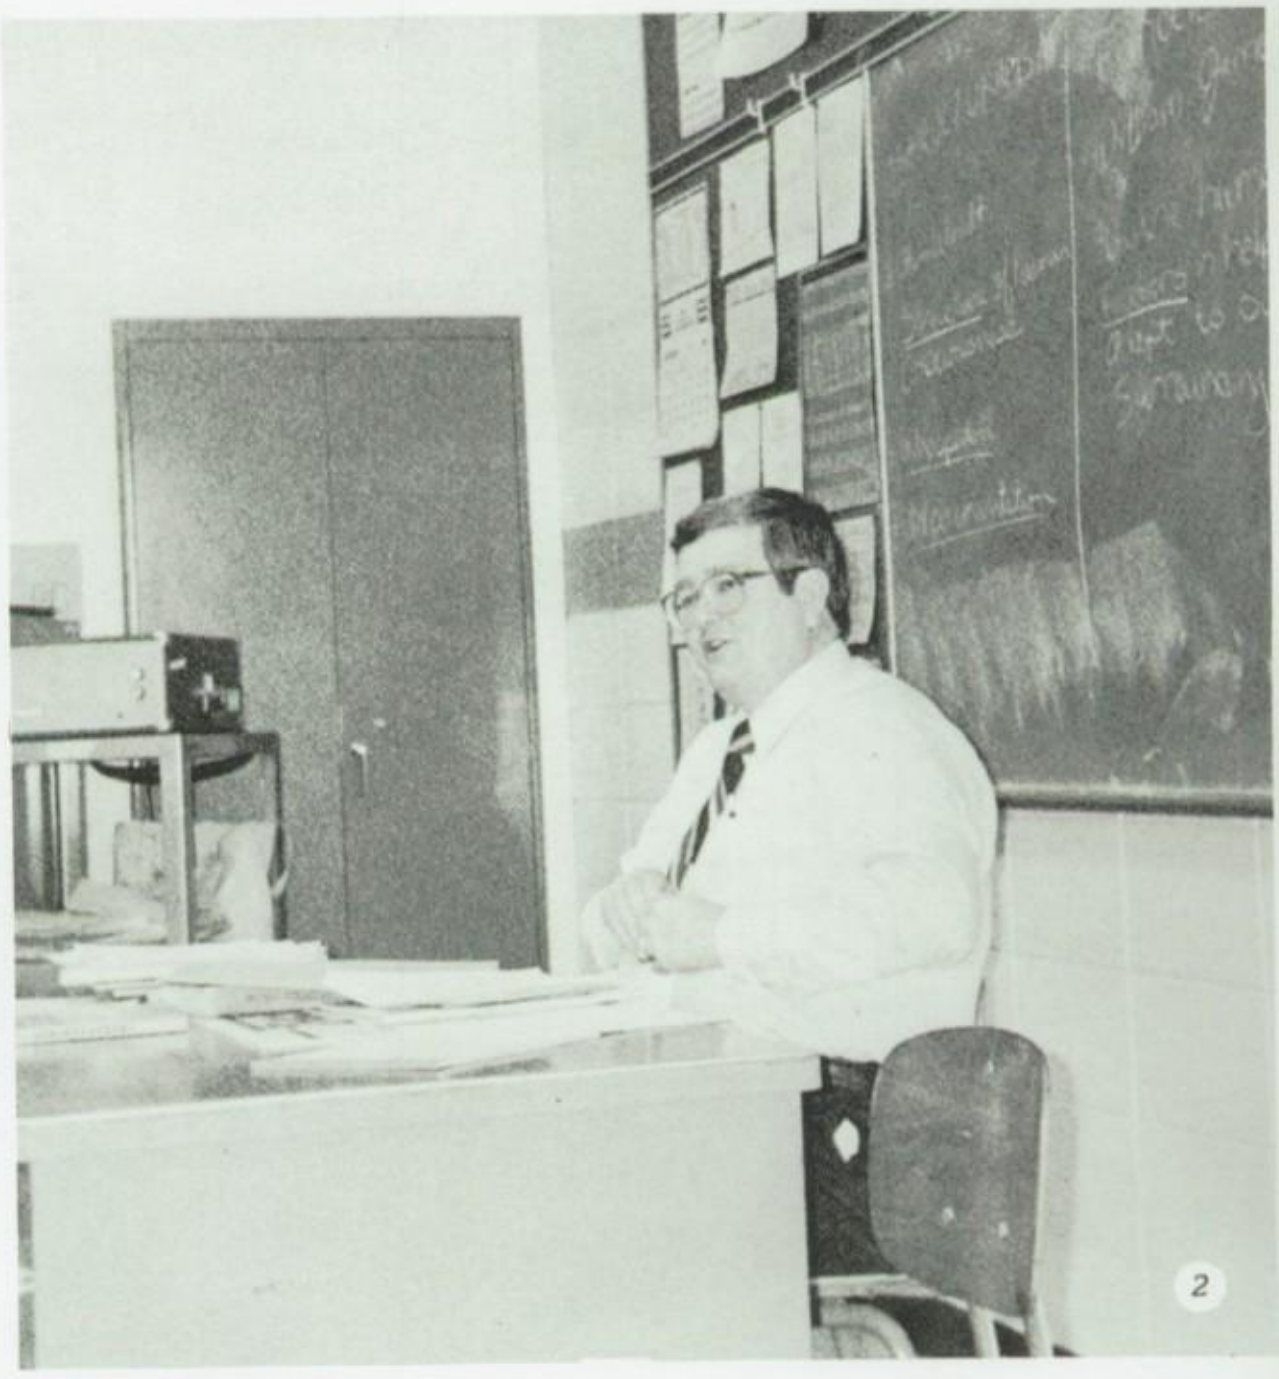
English adds speech and theatre class

1

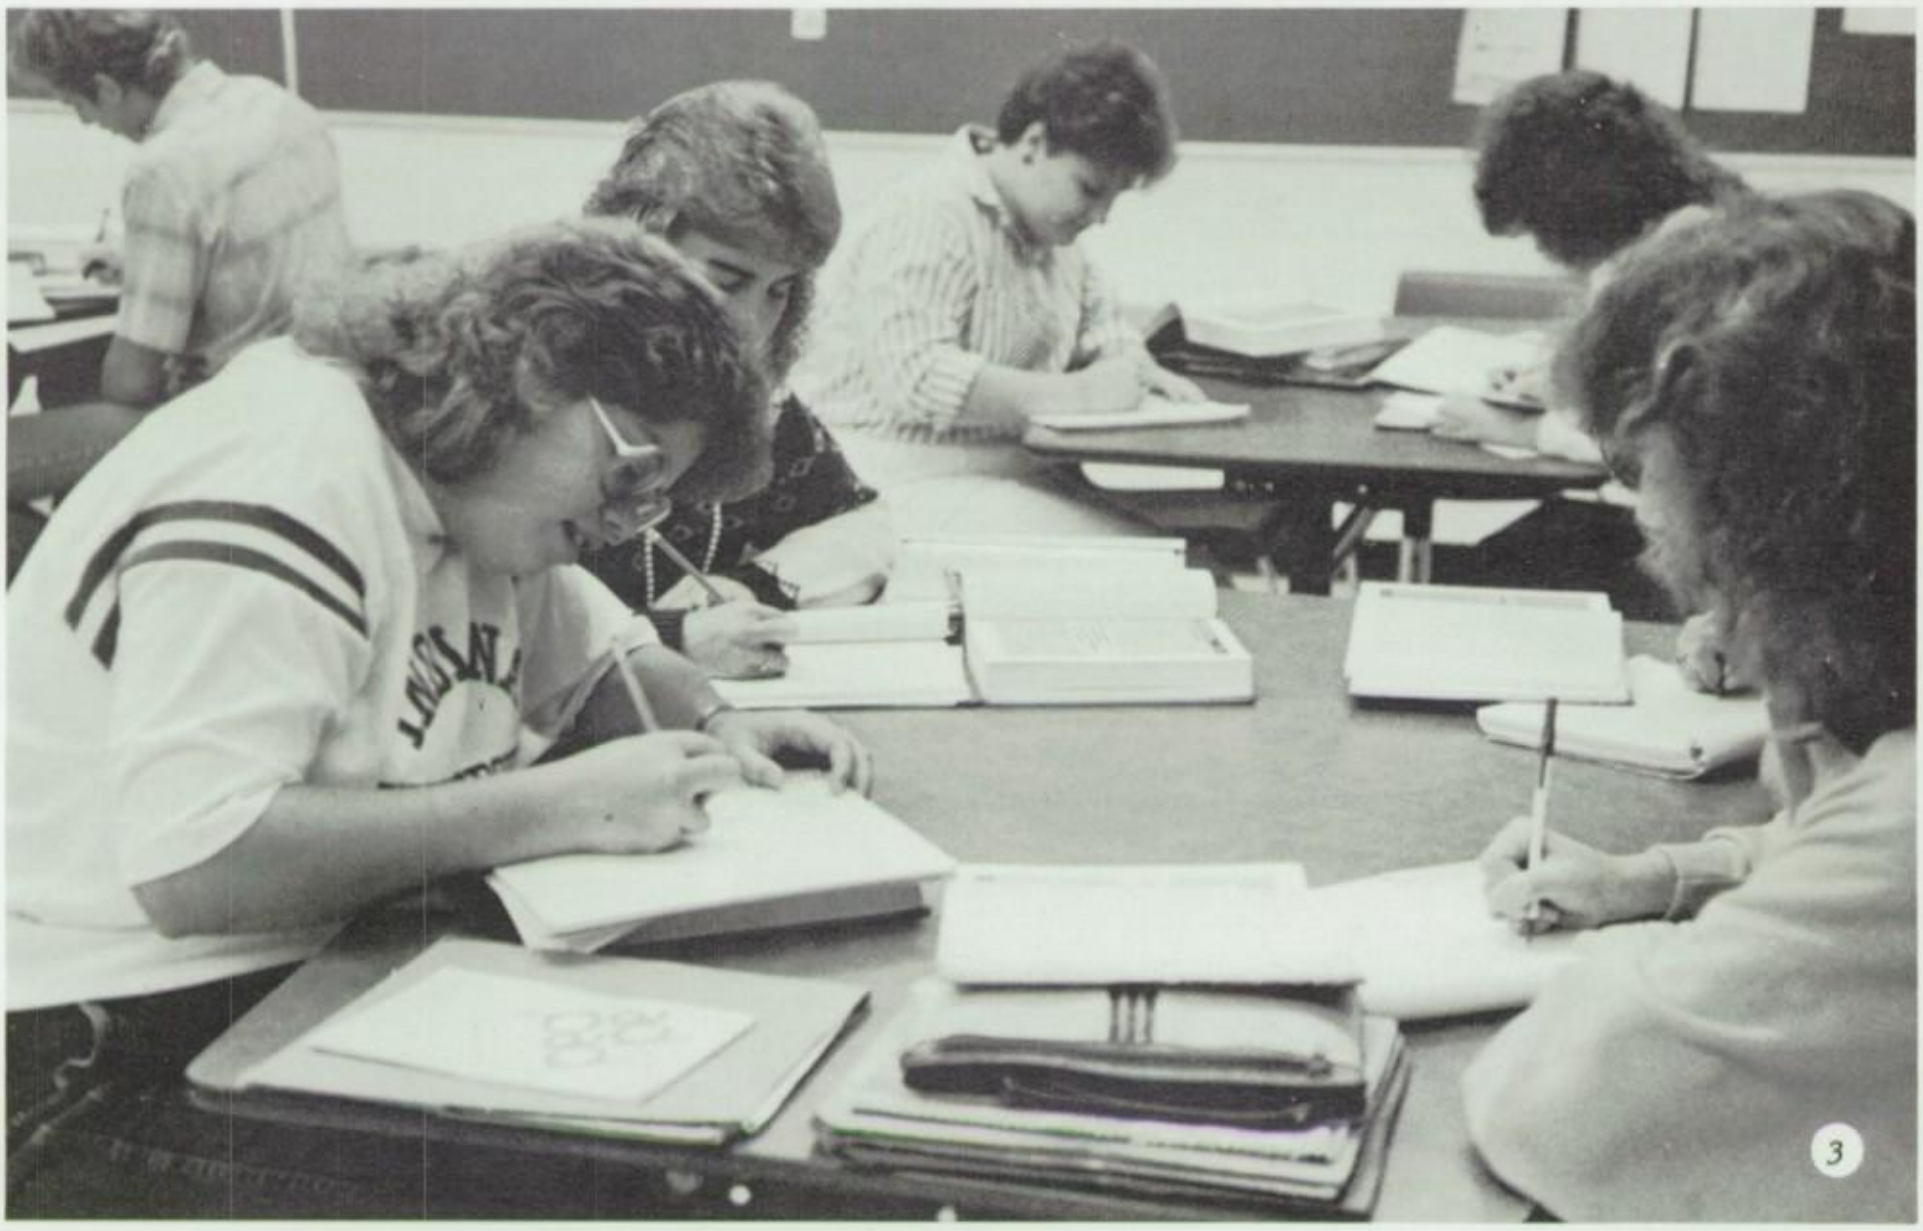
The English department added a new class for the students interested in speech and theatre. It was a first semester class with seventeen sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Mrs. Thornburg became a new teacher in the English department. Also Miss Erp had help from a student teacher, Pam Thompson, from Grace College.

There were achievements by some of the students that should be recognized. Jerlyn Sponseller and Scott Weisser were selected to compete in the National Council of Teachers of English Writing Contest in April. Also Travis Marsh placed first and Jennifer Braumbaugh second in the Scholarship Theme Speech for Veteran's of Foreign Wars. The theme was "The Challenge of American Citizenship." These students received savings bonds for their achievements.



2



1. The teachers in the English department were standing: Mr. Fawley, Mr. Robbins, Mrs. Harkleroad, Mr. Iden, Mrs. Hursh; seated: Mrs. Pletcher, Ms. Erp, Mrs. Thornburg, and Mrs. Medich. 2. Mr. Iden always had fun with his classes. 3. Shelly Avery worked hard on her assignment. 4. Wendy Lung was distracted from her work. 5. The English class listened carefully to the teacher.

Art students have a goal

All year long the art students worked hard to achieve those two perfect pictures. At the end of the year the art students entered their two best pictures into an art exhibit presented by the Wawasee Art Department. Anyone interested could take an art class. The classes offered were basic art, Art I and II, drawing, painting, crafts, commerical art, and graphic art.

1. The art teachers were Mr. Johnson (the one with the sneer) and Mrs. Bryan. 2. Glenda Goshert was busily trying to finish her project. 3. Maria Alvarez and Jamie Pettigrew took time out to talk during class. 4. Was Mindy Korenstra tracing her hand? 5. These art students kept themselves busy by searching magazines. 6. Rosita Hernandez gave her "make my day" look.

Foreign Language is more than just speaking

The foreign language department taught students more than just the basics of speaking. The classes also taught students about the customs of other countries, and they participated in food labs in which they prepared and ate food from the countries they were studying. The classes offered were Spanish, taught by Mrs. Yargoz, French and Latin, taught by Mr. Grabowicz, and German II, taught by Mr. Wenger.

1. It was test time in Latin again. 2. Mrs. Yargoz, Michelle Eisaman, Tracy Nottingham and Chris Madden put together a Mexican feast. 3. Mr. Grabowicz and Mrs. Yargoz practiced their Latin together. 4. Diane Coppes, Kathy Pearson, Glenda DelaFuente, and Kara Zimmerman enjoyed taking time out for a food lab. 5. Julee Fischer wondered if the answers were in the back of the book.

Social Science requires economics

The social science department offered the students a variety of classes. The seniors were required to take a semester of government. This was the first year for the students to take a course in economics. The seniors also had the option of taking psychology and sociology. The juniors were required to take U.S. History and the sophomores could elect to take world history. There were many activities and projects the students participated in and were required to do. The students in government and economics were required to do reports on nuclear war and one topic of their choice in order to pass the course and graduate, which was something new for them.

1. The teachers in the social science department were Mr. Iden, Mr. Corson, Mr. Trimboli, Mr. Welborn, and Mr. Zurcher. 2. The history class didn't look like they were having much fun. 3. The students in history class worked on their assignments. 4. Mr. Corson gave a lecture as the economics students took notes. 5. Doug Wolferman was too busy talking to do his history. 6. Chuck Gray was just not in the mood to do his homework today.

Getting down to Business

The business department students really got things done this year. DECA students participated in many district and state competitions. Those taking first place awards in District Contest included Angie Johnson and Matt Line. Also Matt, who placed 3rd and Travis Marsh who placed first in the State Career Development Conference, both qualified for Nationals at New Orleans in May.

1. Michelle Coy kept getting better all the time. 2. Sherry Payne took time out from helping a friend. 3. Christy Cobbum was Wawasee's future secretary. 4. The business teachers this year were Patricia Huber, Kerry Murphy, Jerry Minton, and Don Storey. 5. Berta Flannery really enjoyed her work. 6. Mr. Murphy helped Amado Roa with his typing.

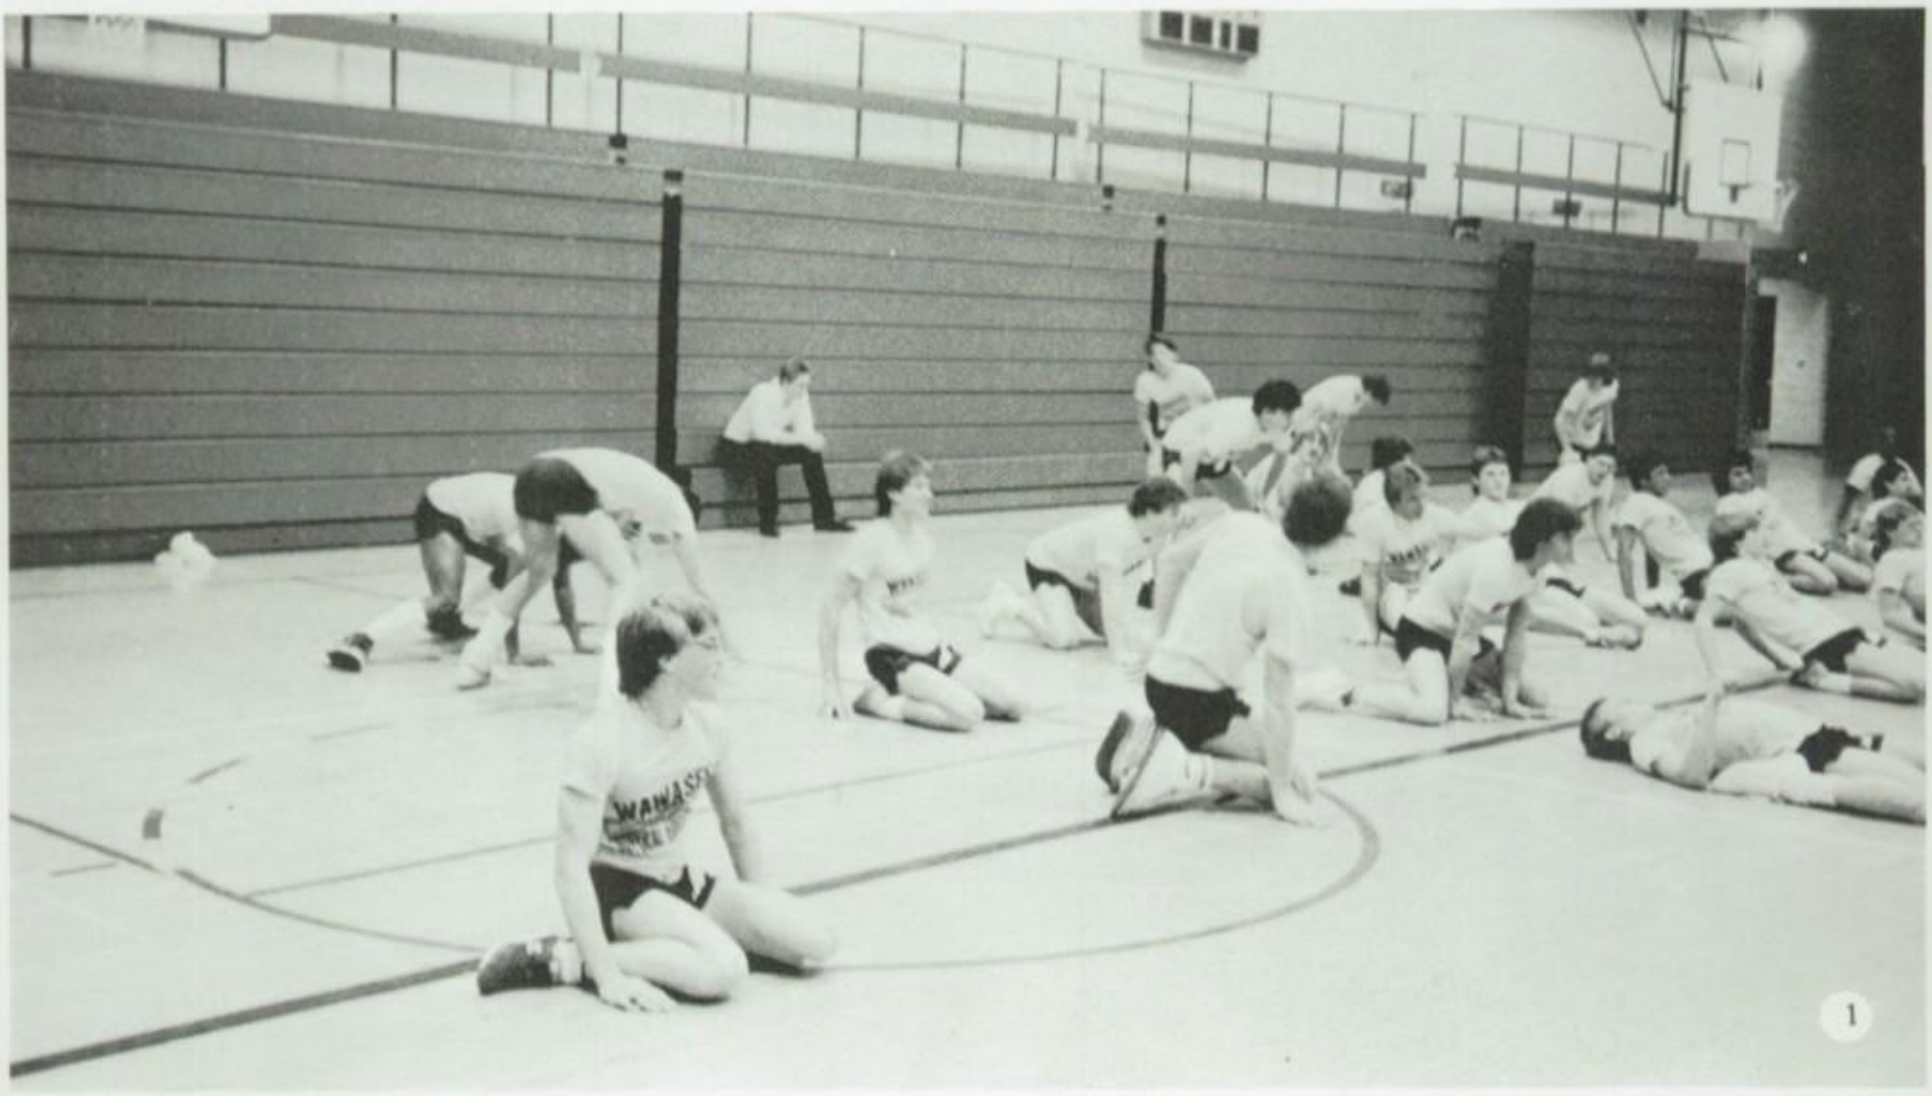
Gym class goes cross country skiing



The teachers in the P.E department had lots of help from student teachers. They were Michelle Watkins from Grace Colege, Ron Stief from Grace College, and Diane Farmer from Manchester College. They all did a good job working with the students and helping out the teachers.

P.E. students did the same activities as usual. They did as many team and individual sports as possible. Some of the sports the advanced fitness classes did were cross country skiing, rapelling, and bicycling. Also the girls and boys took turns in the weight room to help improve their strength and fitness. The teachers in the P.E. department were Mrs. Peterson, Mr. Caldwell, and Mr. Lobsiger.

1. The boys in gym class stretched out before they started their activity. 2. Julie Kaiser had a good time learning to cross country ski in advanced fitness gym class. 3. The freshman gym class didn't feel like doing much. 4. Mrs. Peterson couldn't find what she was looking for. 5. Tressa Littleton showed off her cross country skiing skills. 6. This gym class waited for Mrs. Peterson's instructions.

Secretaries and Aides keep busy

The secretaries and aides at Wawasee did their usual fine job of keeping the school in order. Besides typing letters and answering phones, these women helped take much of the heavy work load off of the teachers and also took the time to answer many questions from students.

Support staff keep school in order

The cooks and custodians worked hard to keep the school in good condition. The cooks provided the students with a wide variety of foods. The students had the choice of going through the main line where the meals were prepared and planned out by the cooks, or to go through the salad bar line where there was a great deal of nutritious foods for those students who worried about their health.

The custodians also provided the students with good things. They did a good job keeping the school clean and in working order. All the cooks and custodians deserved much appreciation for their hard work.

1. Marilyn Grindle was getting lunch ready for the students and faculty. 2. Vern White, head custodian, stopped working long enough to get his picture taken. 3. The janitors were Darwin Klenke, Glen Eubank, Vern White, Gil Hamilton, and Arnold Grindle. 4. Gil Hamilton was busy talking on the telephone. 5. The cooks were Jeanette Thomas, Vicki Brown, Lois Murray, Marilyn Grindle, Sharon Boles, Millie Smith, Marlene Leamon, Millie Coy, and Alice Miller. 6. The cooks were finding recipes to make out the next week's menu. 7. Alice Miller was one of the cooks who worked the cash register at noon.

Varsity Football Captures NLC

The Varsity football team had a super season this year. They were ranked number one for the majority of the season and they were NLC champs. Their final record was 9-1 with their only loss to Northwood at sectionals. During the season they shut out a total of five teams; they were Rochester, Concord, Northwood, Plymouth, and Goshen.

New Coaches Take Over

New experience took over the Lady Warrior Volleyball team. This was the first year of coaching at Wawasee for Coach Karen Albert. The team started out with a very successful season, but as the season went on the team began to lose confidence and enthusiasm. By Sectional time the team had come around a bit; they gave Northwood a very tough game. Amy Conroy and Ann Vitaniemi were named to the second All Conference team. The team ended up with a 7-12 record.

Coaching JV this year for the first time was Coach Jill Yoder. They started their season kind of slow, but progressed really fast. There was lots of talent in the JV players for their upcoming years. They ended the season with an 8-10 record.

New Expectations with New Coach

The varsity tennis team started out on a good note. They won their first three matches against West Noble, Whitko, and Central Noble. Because of tough competition, their season ended at 5-12. They were a young team with only three seniors, so they gained valuable experience for the future. The awards for the boys tennis team were as follows: Bob Strombeck—MVP, and Adam Wilson—Most Improved.

Warriors Reach New Heights

The Warriors had an excellent season under the new coach Gary Goshert. Coach Goshert had plenty of enthusiasm from the first game against Carroll to the final game against Warsaw in the Sectionals. Even though they did not go as far in the tournament as they would have liked to, they proved to us all that they had plenty of talent. They did, however, tie for second with Warsaw in the Northern Lakes Conference. Their final record was 16-5. The team was led by senior Tim Mangas. The other seniors that were on the team were Nathan Rhoades, Mike Eastman, and James Braggs. Three out of the four seniors were starters.

Swimmers Have A Splash Of A Year.

The boys' swim team had a really good year. They started their season off by beating Huntington North and ended it by having Matt Fryback, Dave Keener, Paul Morel, Mark Rich, Scott Rozow, Steve Rozow, Brad Smith, and Skip Winnebald placing in the State Finals. The team took a 2nd in sectionals, and they also took a first in the Lewis Cass Invitational. The swimmers ended their fine season with a 12-2 record.

"We had a very fun and great year, but had a lot of hard work."—David Ridings

Baseline Babes

The girl's Tennis team had a lot of interest this year with 24 girls going out. They had much young talent with only three seniors. Roger Brady assisted Coach Peterson for the first time and the girls had a very successful year. This was another rebuilding season for the team having very young players. This year's group of girls may not have shown a very good record, but as a team they enjoyed the season and had fun.

1. Heather Keiper served an ace. 2. Kim Newcomer hit a nice backhand from the baseline. 3. Kacey Yoder tried her hardest to get her serve over. 4. Tennis team members were row 1: Mgr. Mark Rich, Heather Keiper, Lora Hollar, Kacey Yoder, Kim Carmichael, Cristi Weaver, Teresa Mussleman, Lisa Noble, Amanda Anderson, Jennifer Morgan, Marci Wright, Mgr. Shannon Angle; row 2: Asst. Coach Roger Brady, Kristy Cobbum, Sharon Gerencser, Kim Newcomer, Mary Haffner, Debbie Polise, Erin Watson, Crista Sincroft, Nikki Carr, Barb Butler, Jenny Noble, Susan Rumple, Melissa Conroy, Susan Hapner, Coach Cindy Peterson, and Mgr. Jerrod Stoller. 5. Jennifer Morgan gave it all she had on the return serve. 6. Erin Watson had a good overhead pass. 7. Lisa Noble didn't look like she was concentrating very hard on hitting the ball.

"No matter where I played I was just happy to be part of such a fun team"—Jennifer Morgan.

Warriors Are Off and Running

The girl's Track team started out well with early wins against Westview, Northridge, Bremen, Northwood, and Rochester. The two toughest meets were the East Noble Relays and the Ft. Wayne Northrop Invitational. There were nine sectional qualifiers mid-point in the season. They were Steff Jamiel, Shelly Landis, Amy Barton, Kris Eisenhour, Jennifer Titus, Jennifer Gunn, Julie Gunn, Shelle Boyer, and Jerlyn Sponseller.

1. Girls track team members were row 1: Lydia Bonner, Angie Kistler, Jerlyn Sponseller, Danielle Iwankowitsch, Kris Gregory, Kris Hickey, Jenni Gilmore, Amy Parr, Steff Jamiel; row 2: Amy Barton, Marcy Coy, Leena Keloneva, Christina Barlow, Kristina Lange, Shelle Boyer, Julie Gunn, Kris Eisenhour, Tonya Bryant, Jennifer Titus, Jennifer Carty, Shelly Landis. 2. Jenni Gilmore gave it her all to get the lead during the race. 3. Angela Kistler put her arms into ther jump. 4. Amy Barton threw one of her best. 5. Steff Jamiel led the pack as usual. 6. Tonya Perzanowski made a good throw. 7. Shelle Boyer went up, up in the air.

Headin' for Home

This was the first year for the girls' softball team to be a varsity sport. Last year it was a club. It was therefore the first year for Mr. Timpe to be coach. They had early wins against Prairie Heights, Northwood, Rochester, Goshen, and Tippy Valley. Some of the outstanding players were Lai Reed, who stole many bases; Michelle Coy, who was the leading pitcher; Rhonda Stookey, who was a leading hitter; Jennifer Brumbaugh who was the catcher; and Heidi Brower who was on second base.

1. Rhonda Stookey and Heidi Brower waited for the ball to be hit. 2. Michelle Coy pitched another perfect pitch. 3. Jennifer Brumbaugh waited for the ball to come home. 4. Team members were row 1: Donna Miller, Shawna Miller, Evelyn Stricklin, Michelle Coy, Stacey Lent, Theresa West, Jennifer Brumbaugh, Lee Rodeffer, Rhonda Stookey, Angie Briggs, Lai Reed, Heidi Brower; row 2: Michelle Katsanis, Kristi Gilmore, Shadow Newcomer, Nicki Enyeart, Sherry Ross, Sonya Anderson, Kari Timm, Bobi Stookey, Angie Gorman, Shanna Bushong, Shelly Bushong, Sylvia Cole, Coach Timpe. 5. The team anxiously waited for a victory. 6. Lai Reed headed for first. 7. Bobi Stookey waited for the ball to be hit. 8. Sherry Ross could not believe what happened.

Just Hitting Away

The varsity Baseball team acquired experience throughout the year. They had seven seniors this year and the varsity faced a tough schedule. One of the highlights was the game against Goshen. Nathan Rhoades had a double, a homerun, and three RBI's. In the early part of the season, Kevin Parker led the team with his pitching.

Warriors Steal their Way Home

The junior varsity Baseball team was coached by Mr. Frantz. They had early wins against Northridge and a shut out against Plymouth. Their leading hitters were Fred Crouch, Chris Schwartz, Adam Wilson, and Todd Wilson. Their best pitchers were Chris Conkling, Rod Coy, Adam Wilson, and Dan Wuthrich.

The freshman Baseball team was coached by Mr. Murphy. The freshmen won an early game against Elkhart Central 7-6.

The Birdie Boys

The boys' Golf team had a very young group of golfers, but they also had a very successful season. The only senior playing for the team was John Nemeth. The team was ranked 11th in the State but were moving up since they beat the 8th ranked Northridge.

"We had a tough Schedule, but a fun season."—David O'Neal.

Cheerleaders Have Plenty of Enthusiasm

The cheerleaders really gave it their all this year. They excited the fans and made the ball games more fun. They gave their support to the football and basketball teams. They also had themes for some of the basketball games. To raise money for new uniforms, they sold Christmas ornaments.

Under-classmen Three Fourths of WHS

When I become

A Senior

I want to . . .

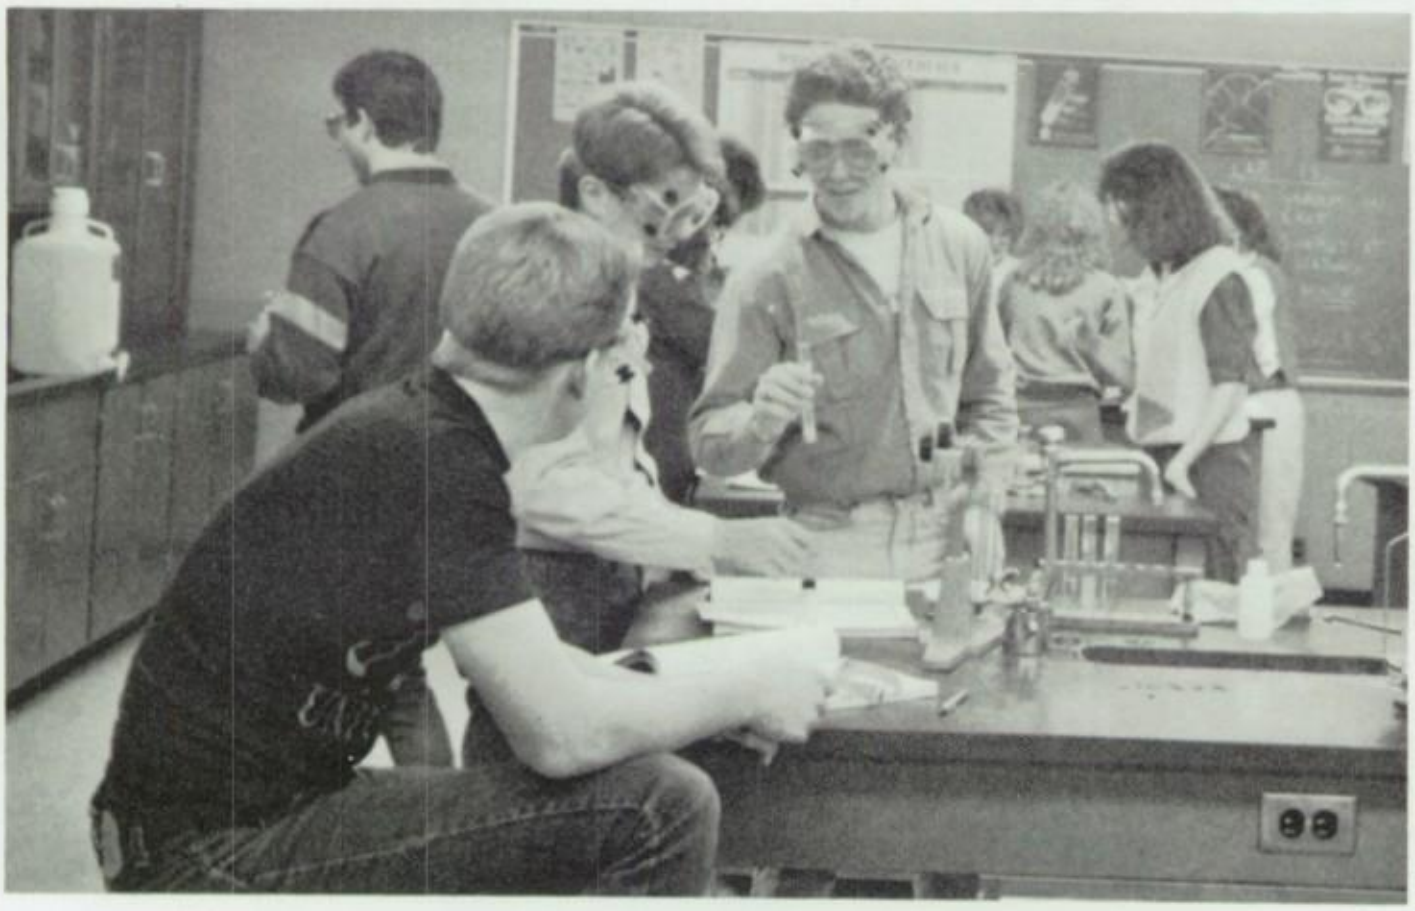
Graduate with honors and have as many friends as possible. Barb Butler—Sophomore

Be in as many activities as possible, so that when I move to California for school I will remember my year as fun. Erin Watson—Sophomore

Have good enough grades to get into a pre-med school. Sara Wilkinson—Freshman

Be able to get into college in New York and still have a fun year. Jenny Bender—Junior

Have a blast, party a bit, but still be able to get into college, hopefully I.U. Ryan Anglin—Freshman



Raise a little cane and make Wawasee the best it can be. Mark Johnson—Junior

Make it the year to remember high school by. Lorie Hand—Sophomore

Have fun. Angie Gorman—Sophomore

Still be seeing Paula Smith. Chris Jordan—Sophomore

Get a basketball scholarship to college. Julie Richcreek—Sophomore

Make it the most exciting year that I've ever had, and get involved in more activities. Shelly Avery—Junior

Be sure that basketball season is the best season I've ever had, and win Sectional. Wendy Lung—Junior

Juniors

The Juniors were really out to win this year. They were full of spirit during homecoming week. They beat all of the other classes at the Fall Fling games and came in second overall. As for the Penny Pitch, out of a grand total of $2,948.24, the juniors raised $2,003.88 of it, beating all classes put together and breaking all past records. This was a class that could really get things done. Since they were juniors, they had only two academic requirements: English and U.S. History. This gave them plenty of time to get into other classes of their choice, such as vocational courses like cosmetology and building trades.

Sophomores

The sophomores worked extra hard to make their second year at Wawasee great. During Homecoming they came in first at the Bonfire sign-in and second in Powder Puff, losing to the seniors. In overall competition they came in third. For the annual Penny Pitch the sophomores also received a third with $300.85. Overall, the sophomore class had a lot of fun and many memories that will last forever.

Wawasee's newest club was American Decathlon. American Decathlon was a form of academic competition, made up of students with B and C averages. The students had to prepare for competitions in art, literature, science, math, music, economics, and social studies, plus take a quiz over one topic chosen annually. Members of the club met in October to prepare for the district competition on January 17, 1987. Wawasee's chapter competed with nine other schools from which the top two teams would go to state. Wawasee did very well for their first year. American Decathlon was sponsored by Mrs. Hursh.

Future Problem Solving had three competitions during the year. The topics that the members studied were water and the problems with it, the increasing problem of garbage, and the changing family structure. Two out of three teams came in first in their division and the third got second. In state competition the team of Dawn Speicher, Jennifer Carty, Brad Gerstner, and David Schmahl placed second. Future Problem Solving Club was sponsored by Mrs. Bailey.

Working with Modems

Computer club started off the year by trying to raise money to buy a robot, but did not succeed. Then they toured Dana to see the CAD-CAM system. In February the club started meeting about every two weeks. They started to work with a modem. They called California and Illinois. The club planned to try again to raise money for the robot and build and program it. The club was sponsored by Mr. Neff and the officers were President, David Broekers; Vice President, Tom Cotton; and Amy Eberly, Secretary/Treasurer.

1. Mr. Neff explained what the club would do with modems. 2. Mr. Neff showed Kevin Beer how to work the modem. 3. Members of Computer Club were row 1: Rick Fireline, Amy Eberly, Brenda Meadows, J.D. Adams, Joe Hutchings, Mary Lou Hernandez; row 2: David Broekers, Matt Hoffert, Danny Serafini, Jason Locke, Mark Neibert, Tony Greuter, Mr. Neff, and Kevin Beer.

Wawasee's Signals

The newspaper Smoke Signals doubled its size from 4 pages to 8 pages. All the work was by word processor and the Farmers' Exchange did the printing. In area competition the Smoke Signals came in second place in the high school category of schools less than 1,000.

Fabulous Faculty

1. Mr. Caldwell looked as if his life depended on this shot. 2. Was Mr. Goshert so deeply in thought? 3. Mr. Neff was on lecture 301. 4. Mrs. Harkleroad smiled because she loved her yearbook staff so much! 5. Mr. Vitaniemi gave a very pleasant look. 6. Mrs. Medich wondered if this day was ever going to end! 7. Mr. Keiper was in the refrigerator as usual. 8. Mr. Lambert was a legend in his own time.

Wawasee had many different types of teachers from great, to wonderful to fabulous. Students may not have realized how much time and effort teachers put in. We were a lucky school to have such a fine staff and this year we had 2 retire: Mr. Grabowicz who had been teaching for 22 years and Mrs. Medich who dedicated 26 years to this profession. They have been appreciated a great deal and we shall miss them both. We added 2 new teachers: Mr. Goshert and Mrs. Thornburg, and hope they enjoyed their first year. So to all the teachers, the students of WHS said, "Thanks!"
